

LaRose Hosts Students from Barber Community Learning Center at Statehouse

The area lawmaker welcomed the students onto the Senate floor before taking a tour of the Ohio Statehouse

COLUMBUS - Fourth graders from the Barber Community Learning Center spent Tuesday at the Ohio Statehouse in Columbus. As part of their visit, the students met with State Senator Frank LaRose (R - Copley) who provided them with a tour of the Senate chamber and an overview of the building's history.

Teachers Verna Fudge, Martha Skinner, and Paula Oglesby accompanied the students, as well as retired Principal David Butz.

Barber Community Learning Center is located in Akron.

Senator LaRose represents the 27th Senate District which includes part of Summit County. He is the Vice Chairman of the Senate Highways and Transportation Committee and Chairman of the Joint Committee on Agency Rule Review.

Connect Ohio Unveils New Every Citizen Online FREE Digital Literacy Training Website

Participants of the FREE computer, Internet training program are eligible for discounted broadband services, computer purchases

COLUMBUS - Connect Ohio is pleased to announce the completion of a new Every Citizen Online (ECO) self-paced basic computer and Internet training website. The new design is simplified and user-friendly - specifically helpful for first-time computer and Internet users. Ohio adults taking advantage of the Every Citizen Online training are eligible to receive special high-speed Internet service and computer retail savings.

More than 21,500 Ohioans have already completed Every Citizen Online basic computer and Internet training since the program's launch. The free 6-hour training is helping area adults connect and communicate in ways many people take for granted. Coursework covers computer basics, an introduction to the Internet and e-mail, and how broadband can be helpful in daily life. Of the Every Citizen Online participants surveyed, 70% say they intend to buy a computer and 87% say they will likely subscribe to broadband service in the future.

To further encourage technology adoption, program participants are eligible to receive home broadband service specials (as low as $10/month or free netbook with year subscription) and discounts toward computer purchases (starting at $119) from partner companies supporting the broadband training initiative.

Program trainees come from a wide range of backgrounds, including small business owners, persons interested in increasing their education, job seekers, and seniors who have waited to adopt technology.

Sherry Bocook, a 50-year-old Every Citizen Online participant, recently completed the training after losing her job due to a lack of computer skills. "I didn't know what to expect, but I really enjoyed it," said Bocook. "I need computer skills. I'm here to learn Word, to cut and paste to make a resume, and to e-mail. This (class) is a great resource. There should be more people here! I know a lot who could benefit from it."

*Watch interviews with ECO participants here. Connect Ohio has partnered with nearly 300 libraries, community colleges, adult-education programs, workforce centers, YMCAs, and Goodwill Industries locations across the state to offer the free training.

The Every Citizen Online digital literacy project, which is funded by the National Telecommunication and Information Agency (NTIA)'s Broadband Technology Opportunities Program, plans to train 200,000 state residents and to generate 75,000 new broadband adopters in Ohio. The scope of the 3-year program includes thousands of training hours, more than 2,000 new computers provided to partner locations to upgrade community access points, and to stimulate job creation and economic growth.

Find a nearby training facility by calling 1-855-NOW-I-CAN (669-4226) or by visiting http://connectohio.org/training-facilities. Free self-paced training is being offered online from any computer with Internet access at http://training.connectohio.org.
