

a Chinese Instructor is needed for Roxboro Middle School

Dear friends,

Thank you in advance for sharing this info with your contacts for ASIA, Inc. is in need of a Chinese Instructor for Roxboro Middle School. The location is: The address is 2400 Roxboro Road, Cleveland Hts, OH 44106. The instructor must commit for the full year.

Position:

This position is for an after school Chinese Language and Cultural Instructor for Roxboro Middle School's Program, Connect Partners. One day each week (Mondays - Starting October 12, 2015 - May 9, 2016), students will be involved in global learning with an instructor from ASIA, including Chinese culture and language instruction and potential cross-cultural sharing and learning. The Chinese Instructor will serve to expand CONNECT students' understanding and knowledge about Chinese culture and language. In addition to extending cultural knowledge, the Chinese instructor will aid in providing support for basic language instruction and conversational practice.

Background:

Roxboro Middle School has kindly requested that we contract a new Chinese Instructor. We are looking to contract an instructor from mainland China. The instructor will teach the Mandarin language and culture for middle school children.

This is an afterschool program for children who need additional help with their academic work. The program itself is called Connect Partners. The instructor must be able to teach Mandarin in a fun, engaging way. The objective is cultural enrichment for children who do not know Chinese and are learning the language and its culture for the first time. They must be able to teach the language without provoking intimidation. The classroom is composed of approximately 25 children; thus, keeping the middle school students engaged is essential.

We must have an instructor hired by October 12, 2015 or asap. Once an instructor is identified, the instructor will have a meeting with me and the Roxboro staff.

The instructor should have a teaching background. This position is critical, as they have to be able to teach Chinese as a fun way. Middle School children are difficult to control, and the instructor must be able to handle the classroom.

Job Description:

- Prepare periodic instructional plan for middle school students enrolled in Roxboro's after school program, Connect Partners.
- Coordinate class activities and contents as a supplement to the students who take Chinese courses with the school Chinese teacher during normal school hours.
- Help students improve their current Chinese language level.
- Prepare beginner level lesson plans for middle school students who are taking Chinese lessons for the first time.
- Prepare assessments and recommendations for each student at the end of the school year.
- Communicate and work with the after school instructor coordinator and assistants for classroom operation.
- Prepare teaching material based on 25% cultural and 75% language.
- Prepare fun and learning language activities for the class.
- Instruct students with cultural activities related to customs, holidays, food, and Tai Chi, etc.
- Organize field trips to Asia town and other related Asian locations to allow students to experience the Asia culture.
- Professional attire required.

Example of lesson plans:

- 1) Chopsticks competition: introduction: how to use chopsticks; compete in groups of 4-5 students in picking marshmallows and pasta between tables.
- 2) Hot Potato: once student drums while other students pass around fuzzy dices need to tell the addition result in Chinese when drumming stops.
- 3) Chinese whispers/ telephone game: 4-5 students in a row, the first student pick up a question card or numbers or simply math questions in Chinese. They need to whisper down the number and the last one in line should tell the audience the correct number in Chinese.

Class Hours:

Every Monday 4:45PM-5:45PM. October 12, 2015 - May 9, 2016

Location:

Roxboro Middle School
2400 Roxboro Road
Cleveland Hts, OH 44106

Pay:

$80.00 dollars per class plus mileage

Kent State at Stark partners with Chinese university

The partnership will help grow the Stark campus' global studies and multicultural studies programs.

JACKSON TWP.

For the first time at a Kent State University regional campus, Kent State at Stark is partnering with an international university and hosting 11 students and a faculty member for a semester.

The students from China's Shenzhen Polytechnic, a university located just north of Hong Kong, will be enrolled at Kent State Stark and take 12 credit hours of English as a second language courses as well as learn about American culture and business. They also will visit attractions in Canton and Akron and participate in peer mentorship programs in Cleveland and Pittsburgh, according to a news release from Kent State Stark.

A. Bathi Kasturiarachi, assistant dean of academic affairs, said the partnership will help grow the Stark campus' global studies and multicultural studies programs.

"This is a part of our mission and strategy plan, to have more of a global presence, Kasturiarachi said.

Discussions of the program began when Bei Cai, associate professor of communication studies at the Stark Campus, was contacted by a Shenzhen Polytechnic colleague who reached out to her about a partnership.

Since Kent State Stark is a nonresidential campus, the university created a contract with a nearby hotel to house the visiting students for the semester and provide them with transportation to campus, Kasturiarachi said.

Chinese students already are being recruited for the spring semester, and Kent State Stark also is interested in sending some of its students to China, Kasturiarachi said.
