

Chinese New Year Celebration presented by ZTE Monday, February 8th vs. Sacramento King

The Cavaliers will host a Chinese New Year Celebration presented by ZTE on Monday, February 8th at the Cavs vs. Sacramento Kings game at 7:00 p.m. at The Q. The Chinese New Year is a traditional celebration of the Lunar New Year and is observed as a time for family and friends to be together. It marks the first month and day of the Chinese lunar calendar which falls on February 8, 2016 this year.

All fans in attendance at The Q will receive a Cavs Chinese New Year t-shirt presented by ZTE

- Cavs players will wear first-ever Cavs branded Chinese New Year Celebration themed shooting shirts.
- Courtside signage and LED displays will feature "Happy Chinese New Year" wishes in both Mandarin and English.
- A special halftime performance by The Red Panda Acrobat, who amazes crowds with her balancing act on a unicycle.
- Cavalier Girls and Scream Team performances inspired by the Chinese New Year.

- Exclusive video content featuring interviews from Cavs players and Cavalier Girls who have traveled to China with NBA initiatives and programs
Follow the celebration on social media with hashtag #CavsCNY.

為迎接新的一年並感恩過去一年來的支持，慈濟美國克里夫蘭聯絡處將舉辦新春祈福感恩茶會，竭誠邀請社會大眾及法親家人，一起來領受證嚴法師的福慧紅包與祝福，並且在點燃心燈的同時，虔誠為家人、親友及新的一年祈福。

午齋後將舉行醫學講座，由黃醫師主講「眼睛的健康和保養，導致失明的眼疾」。

To welcome 2016 New Year and appreciate your support last year, Tzu Chi Cleveland will host a New Year Blessing Ceremony. We sincerely invite you, your family, and friends to join us to receive Master Cheng Yen's blessing in the form of Red Envelope. We will pray together for a disaster free world and a blissful new year.

A medical seminar is followed in the afternoon, and Dr. Huang will discuss "Everything you need to know about eye health and blinding eye disease."
